FARMERS FACING BETTER CONDITIONS

Optimism for Future Expressed by Dairy Leaders at Shorthorn Picnic.

"Get good cattle and stay with them," was the keynote of short talks given by experts of state and national fame at the Wisconsin Shorthorn Breeders' picnic at the J. Z. McLean farm in Rock Prairie, Wednesday afternoon. They brought the modern note of optimism and up to date methods in farm management to the ordinary stockholder for these occasions and stimulated greater interest in improved stock growing.

It was a representative gathering of farmers and their families, several hundred strong, taking in not only the old stock breeders of the vicinity, but many of the younger men and boys of the farms growing up in the business and eager for pointers which might help them.

An interesting feature of the cattle exhibit was that the herd now owned by Harvey Little was celebrating its golden anniversary having been in continuous existence for 50 years and was represented by several fine animals.

John McCann, representing the Rock county organization, opened the meeting of the afternoon with a brief address followed with an interesting welcome from the McLean family to the hostilities of Arrighibon by John McLean.

State President Talks.

Ralph Reynolds, local president of the Wisconsin Shorthorn Breeders' association, then took charge of the program, and after outlining briefly some of the aims of the organization introduced John C. Robinson, Evansville, president of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association, who gave some details of what has been accomplished by it.

Prof. J. C. Palmer, of the state university, drew particularly on the formal welcome from the McLean family to the hostilities of Arrighibon by John McLean.

"People are talking about improving their herds in the future, but they are favorably inclined toward Wisconsin breeds," he said.

He believes there is a great future for all the standard breeds of cattle giving figures showing the comparative numbers of Holsteins, Guernseys and dairy Shorthorns owned in the state, and while all are good, the last had proven of value both for meat and milk production, he declared, and is a profitable animal for general purposes. The Rock County Shorthorn Breeders' association with its list of over 350 animals and its own cow testing organization came in for special words of praise. The latter feature, he pointed out, is unique, being the only special breed in the country which has its own organization for that purpose.

Prices on Gain.

Frank Forbes, McHenry, Ill., emphasized that the true Shorthorn is a real farmers' cow, giving rich milk and plenty of beef. He said that while the cattle industry had had in the past the greatest boom and the greatest slump in its history, yet he believed conditions were gradually on the mend and prices were on the gain.

Scott Earl, Prairie du Chien, who disclaimed the title of gentleman farmer, by which he was introduced, and maintained that he was only a plain lawyer, also emphasized that conditions for the farmers are showing signs of improvement.

"The dairy cow brings prosperity to the farmer," was the thought emphasized by Ford Allen, Glenn Elgin, in charge of livestock improvement for the Northwestern railway. He said he comes in close contact with farmers and cattlemen from all over the country, and that all of them, especially those of the west, are talking of improving their herds.

Dairy Special Planned.

The "Dairy Special," with its motto, "Blaze the trail for the Dairy," was the theme of Reid Murray, Madison, secretary of the state stockbreeders' association. He gave a brief outline of the plan, which included taking about 30 head of the best stock of the state on an itinerary through the northwestern states to the coast, returning through Wyoming, Nebraska and Iowa. Short stops would be made at important places, he pointed out, and information would be given concerning Wisconsin herds of livestock by means of inspection of the animals and lectures on the superiority of the dairy herds of the state.

J. L. Torrey, Chicago, field man for the American Shorthorn Breeders' association, outlined briefly some of the aims of the organization which included the eradication of tuberculosis, the registration of bloodstock, and the promotion of cow testing organizations. The enthusiasm of the pioneers who had started the milk production in Rock county, he pointed out, is responsible for carrying on the good work among the new generation.

Stock Is Exhibited.

In the exhibit of livestock which took place during an intermission of the program, he described the different animals, giving their pedigrees and remarking on the good points of each. Among the bulls shown were those owned by T. W. Lamb and son, Ray Brothers, Harvey Little, Peter Wagner & Son, J. J. McCann, Geo. L. Lathers, and the McLean herd. Some of the heifers shown were owned by the Ray Brothers, Harvey Little, Geo. Lathers, J. J. McCann, Peter Wagner & Son, J. J. McCann, Geo. L. Lathers, and the McLean herd.

The usual picnic dinner was served at noon at long tables spread on the lawn, coffee and lemonade being given out free of charge. Miss Margaret McLean gave a vocal solo, and three young women sang a trio number.

Palmyra Planning BIG HOMECOMING

Annual Reunion of Old Settlers Expected to Bring Out 6,000 Visitors.

Palmyra. —It is unbelievable that a town of 700 persons can in a day grow to one of 6,000, but that is what Palmyra does on the third Tuesday in June each year. The occasion is the annual reunion and picnic of the Wisconsin Old Settlers' association, and this year falls on June 21.

From every section of Wisconsin and the United States people come by train and automobile to attend the festivities, which continue from sunrise to midnight. It is a day when former neighbors, whose fortunes have carried them to other parts of the country, gather in this village, talk over days that have passed, recall reminiscences, and enjoy a program of music and speaking.

Six Thousand Last Year

The record attendance of 6,000 at last year's celebration is expected to be surpassed this year. Automobiles and good roads have made next door neighbors of people who in years gone by were a day's journey away, and has resulted in an increased attendance at the celebration. The town is turned over to the visitors. Music will be furnished by the Palmyra high school band of 40 pieces and the Milwaukee band of 25 pieces, and during the evening they will play continuously from adjoining pavilions on the main street. There will be a "three headed" baseball game and athletic and games of all kinds for the young people.

Program in Morning

The program will be held in the morning, the picnic at noon, and the ball games and other contests in the afternoon and a dance in the evening. Dr. W. A. Gault, president of Carroll college, will be the speaker if the committee is successful in securing his services.

The festivities will take place at The Doughty Home park, and the dance at Scherers hall, Vogel's orchestra of Watertown furnishing the music.

There will be a meeting of all committees at 8 p. m. Monday at the city hall to make further arrangements and discuss plans for the homecoming.

The first arrival to attend the picnic is Peter Ryan, Iowa, who is stopping at the Yates hotel.

Committee in Charge

The committee on whose work depends the success of the homecoming are as follows:

Music—George Crump, Isaac Olson, Thomas French.

Envelopes—J. P. McLeary, Henry Stacey, Emory Polite.

Design and Sale of Badges—C. W. Bonnell, Charlotte Carlin, Patrick Bagley.

ASKS INFORMATION ABOUT HANDICAPPED

School census-taking has been started by Miss Rosemary Enright, attendance officer, although her regular duties while school is in session have kept her too busy to give it much attention. This year Miss Enright is also taking a census for the state on the number of handicapped and disabled here, and is expected to be asked to aid her in this role by giving her the information she requests on her house-to-house canvass. This record will be sent to the state department, and it is expected will aid in compiling information which may later result in adding these disabled.

GOLLNER GOES TO GERMANY AGAIN

Having Renewed His American Citizenship, Returns to Stuttgart.

John Gollner, who has been visiting in Janesville for the past two weeks, left Wednesday for New York City, from which port he will sail for Germany and his home in Stuttgart. He expects to arrive on July 3.

You see, Stuttgart is known all over Germany as the place where every year the American Fourth of July is celebrated. It was discontinued during the war but has since been revived and on the Fourth we have a regular American celebration with the city decorated with American flags and bunting of the red, white and blue.

I wish you would add to the interview with me, which I am preparing, a few more things concerning conditions in Germany. What was in the interview was the truth, but not all of it. I recognize the fact that all that can be said is hard to get in the space of a column or so.

Some Additional Facts

The expense of the trip which has brought me to America for the purpose of keeping up and maintaining my American citizenship according to the necessities of the German law, cost me about $500 in American money. There is a standing army in Germany now of 500,000 men and the cost of maintaining them is enormous.

Albert Meek Awarded American Legion Athletic Medal

HONOR THIS TIME
COVERS 4 YEARS;
SEEMAN IS SECOND

Albert Meek, all around athlete at Janesville high school, has been awarded the annual American Legion gold medal for athletic ability and scholarship. It was announced Thursday morning by W. T. Clark, commander of the local post.

The medal, a gold affair, will be presented to the winner on June 14 at 2 p. m.

Meek won letters in four sports at the local institution in his four years. He was a member of basketball, football and participated in track.

Lyle Seeman, a post graduate student, was given honorable mention. Meek's record shows a total of 534 points. Seeman piled up 520 points, but had one more semester than Meek. For his four years of work, Seeman had 474 points.

The points were divided as follows: Albert Meek—27 points for 27 inches of basketball; 258 points for 43 quarters of football; 258 points for 36 quarters of basketball; six points for participating in three track meets; and 15 points for taking one second place in track.

Lyle Seeman—224 points for 74 quarters of basketball and 45 points for 41 quarters of football. Seeman earned 156 points in his last semester for 52 quarters of basketball, but these were not counted in the award, because he was eligible for graduation last June and returned for graduate work.

Only contest between schools in the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association were entered.

Meek played running guard on the Blue basketball team and was considered the best in southern Wisconsin. He covered a center field on the baseball team. In football, he was an end. He was a middle distance man in track.

Last year the honor was won by Alvin Crapner, but was for only one year. Crapner won three letters in his senior period.

By FRANK SINCLAIR

THESE are the best days of the year. The mornings are alive with glory as the sun comes over the horizon and nature keeps putting her household in order after the ravages of a lengthy winter. Daylight hours are long and will continue to grow longer until the first of the month, when they will become shorter again. It is the time when all the outdoors calls. It is the time to play ball, kitten ball, tennis, golf and hike. It is the time to run, jump or play a game of recreation. Are you making the best of it?

ONE Woman lost $50,000, chaffed at $25 and the prize went out of paying the war tax by calling the Leonard Mitchell place at Chicago last week a "charity" affair. And the public got stung. That's what comes of permitting the staging of illegal boxing.

THE SECOND annual presentation of the American Legion athletic medal to the lad at Janesville high school who has made the best record in sports and scholarship combined, was made much to the local "sport" institution. Spirit has been backward for some time with the Blues, although it has taken on greater vigor in the past year. It requires the winner be the best combined all-around athlete and finest student for four years. It means something to win an honor of that character. It requires a real boy to win it. Albert Meek is worthy of the honor. His best work was in basketball in which he was the best guard of southern Wisconsin.

Yesterday 1923 season's debut, by frightening Yankees into 10 inning game, but lost by one run. Wednesday they upset the league leaders, 4-1. Result was costly for Yankees, as Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 5-2. Faber, who held Yankees to five hits and struck out seven, made the first home run of his 10-year major career. Athletics led to win at Cleveland also won and gained point in race for second place, only two points separating them. Four Boston pitchers yielded 18 hits in 17-4 game. Senators won at Detroit, 7-3. Pirates taking clear hold on second. At Chicago, Empire Moran reversed decision on disputed play and Glavin lost, 8-1, only to come from St. Louis and Cincinnati triumphed, former being extended to 12 innings by Philadelphia in first game of series, and later making it two straight from Boston, 5-1. ## BRINGING UP FATHER

Jones Defines Amateurism and Calls for Aid to U. W.

Madison—T. E. Jones, director of Athletics at the University of Wisconsin, appeals to the alumni and friends of the university to assist high school and college athletes to remain amateurs.

Wisconsin might have won the conference basketball championship this year had five of the best men on last year's squad not been declared ineligible because they participated in summer games where admission was charged, which, under conference rules made them professionals.

Summer baseball, whether semi-professional or "amateur" so long as an admission is charged to the contest, is tabooed in the conference, and many lads who would have become stars, won a name for themselves, for their home town and Wisconsin, have been prevented from playing on the university team merely because they were prevailed upon to play on the home town team during the summer. In some cases lads did not receive one cent for playing, but admission was charged at the gate, or the grand stand, or a collection was taken up at the game. That fact made them professionals under conference rules and ended their athletic days in school.

More than one student at Wisconsin who at present is eligible to play on college team next year, has received flattering offers to play baseball this summer. Some need the money to help them through school but with the help of the local alumni to their home town employment for the summer could be provided and they would remain amateurs.

The University of Wisconsin has always been a leader in the fight for amateurism in sports, and says Mr. Jones, and will continue to live up to the letters of the rules, even if by doing so, her teams are unable to win a slug against the East.

Winning is supported by the vast majority of the students, faculty and alumni, and although a star may be lost here and there by professionalism the varsity team will continue to uphold Wisconsin standards.

Lathrop Drops Game, $50 to 0; Bank Fans Out

William G. (Smiling Bill) Lathrop, former Samson Turner and White Sox pitcher, says he is going to ask for his pay for pitching baseball games in hard, cold cash, hereafter. "The clearer the ring of the silver or the brighter the gold the better."

"Rusty" hasn't any use for the checking system.

Particularly, he doesn't like the checks bank of Lancaster. When that bank went bust last week, Bill couldn't get $50 due him.

Two weeks ago, Lathrop went as a pitcher for the famous game at Madison in that famous game at Madison against the Capital city team in which 22 hits were registered. The game, itself, must have known something was afoot.

Bill played the field and then covered first. When Lancaster was going down—just like the bank—he went in to get into the pitcher's box in the eighth inning to save off the cyclone. Naturally, Lathrop didn't care much about that because he was due to go to the pitcher's box next day. So when it came time to settle up, he asked 50 bucks for his three-fold duties.

J. Harold Pugh, secretary of the ball club and cashier of the bank, made out the check in the presence of a Gazette staff writer. It looked good at that time, just as good as any other check. Now this man Pugh and the vice-president, L. A. Clark, cannot be found.

Rain Calls Halt to League Games

No game was played in the city industrial baseball league Wednesday because of rain. Wet grounds on Thursday caused the calling of three games scheduled for Thursday night. No dates for the play-off have been set.

Evansville Club Leases Net Ground

Evansville, Twenty tennis club members are making three courts on South Second and Fair streets. They have leased the ground for five years. The courts are expected to be completed in three weeks.

Kitten Circuit Makes Big Hit

The Kitten ball league is taking a tight hold of the prospective players of the six organizations entered, even before the circuit opens. When the call was issued for candidates by the Kiwanis, Elks, Knights of Columbus, Lakota club, Parker Ten and Gazette, the response was unusually large.

At the Gazette alone, 17 applied for places on the team. The newspaper employees are to start practice on Friday evening at 5 p. m. at the fair grounds.

It is probable that three diamonds will be laid out at the fair grounds. Work is to be started on them at once. The playing space is exactly one-half the size of outdoor baseball. The Lions Den applied for membership in the circuit Wednesday, but their application could not be accepted.
